

Whether you're looking to buy your first home, or trading up to a larger one, there are many costs – on top of the purchase price – that you must figure into your calculation of affordability. These extra fees, such as taxes and other additional costs, could surprise you with an unwanted financial nightmare on closing day if you're not informed and prepared.

Some of these costs are one-time fixed payments, while others represent an ongoing monthly or yearly commitment. Not all of these costs will apply in every situation, however it's better to know about them ahead of time so you can budget properly.

Remember, buying a home is a major milestone. Whether it's your first, second or tenth home, there are many important details to address, during the process. The last things you need are unbudgeted financial obligations cropping up hours before you take possession of your new home.

Read through the following check-list to make sure you're budgeting properly for your next move.

1. Appraisal Fee

Your lending institution may request an appraisal of the property which would be your responsibility to pay for. Appraisals can vary in price from approximately $175 - $400.

2. Property Taxes

Depending on your downpayment, your lending institution may decide to include your property taxes in your monthly mortgage payments. If your property taxes are not added to your monthly payments, your lending institution may require annual proof that your taxes have been paid.

3. Survey Fee

When the home you purchase is a resale (vs a new home), your lending institution may ask for an updated property survey. The cost for this survey can vary between $500 and $800.

4. Property Insurance

Home insurance covers the replacement value of your home (structure and contents). Your lending institution will request a proof that you are insured as it protects their investment on the loan.

5. Service Charges

8. Mortgage Brokers Fee

A mortgage broker is entitled to charge you a fee in order to source a lender and organize the financing. However, it pays to shop around because many mortgage brokers will provide their services fee to you by having the lending institution absorb the cost.

The cost for a professional mover can cost you in the range of 50$ - 100$ / hour for a van and 3 movers, and 10-20% higher during peak demand seasons.

11. Water Quality and Quality Certification

If the home you purchases is serviced by a well, you should consider having your water checked by your local experts. Depending upon where you live, determine whether or not a fee is charged, to certify the quantity and the quality of the water.

12. Local Improvements

If the town you live in has made local improvement, such as the addition of sewers or sidewalks, this could impact a property's taxes by thousand of dollars.
